

LITTLESTOWN'S GAS SUPPLY OFF OVER WEEK-END

The week-end's cold wave which sent temperatures in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys to record lows produced shortages of natural gas in several southern Pennsylvania towns, the bulk of whose supply is furnished by the Texas and Eastern pipe lines.

The low temperatures extended into Texas and Louisiana, the source of much of the natural gas consumed here, making it impossible for this region and the Texas and Eastern to supply the demand here, where temperatures were also near zero.

Most seriously affected in this immediate area was Littlestown, where all the gas was turned off by employees of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company Saturday.

Restore Service Sunday

Littlestown consumers were without gas until crews began turning it on again Sunday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. The job was not completed until 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Little if any affect of the gas shortage was felt in Gettysburg, Biglerville, Arendtsville and other Adams county towns, Julian Estep, local manager, said, because gas consumed in these towns is obtained

"Dollar Days" This Week-end

Gettysburg's semi-annual "Dollar Day" sales will be held here Friday and Saturday with approximately 50 merchants cooperating.

The sales have been a feature of the borough business life for the last 25 years, merchants declare that the 51st Dollar Day sale Friday and Saturday will offer some of the greatest bargains in the quarter of a century of Dollar Day programs.

They pointed out that while prices are higher than they have been at many times during the period, the sale prices in proportion to today's inflated costs will be outstanding values. Customers were urged to take advantage of the Dollar Days, with merchants noting that in an inflated market, those who buy now will save much more than if they delay their buying until a later date.

APPLE GROWERS ASK STATE TAX; ELECT SHRIVER

Adams county's apple growers voted unanimously in favor of a one-cent-a-bushel tax on apples Saturday afternoon at the annual Adams County Fruit Growers association all-day meeting at Biglerville.

The vote came after Frederic E. Griest and John Peters had explained a bill to be submitted to the state legislature asking the state to levy the tax on apples with the money raised by the tax to be spent by a commission of fruit growers for research and advertising.

Harry S. Stoner, retiring president of the county association, asked the apple growers present to vote on the matter as a guidance to State Assemblyman H. Earl Pitzer, who represents the county in the state legislature. Griest said a bill calling for the tax would be placed before the legislature this term by the state horticultural association.

Shriver Is President

George Shriver, Bendersville, was elected president of the county growers with Oliver J. Heacock named as vice president and Nelson Weber re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Spray schedules for the coming year, new developments in concentrate spraying, the new social laws, the outlook for labor in 1951 and the economic outlook were among the topics discussed by speakers at the all-day session. The program began in the Biglerville auditorium and adjourned at noon to the C. H. Musselman cafeteria where the 300 growers were guests of the Musselman company at a turkey dinner. The afternoon session was held at the cafeteria.

Dr. Kenneth Hood, State College extension economist, urged the growers to buy their supplies early and in large quantities. By such a move, he noted, they should be able to keep ahead of inflation and shortages. Any forecast of the coming year, Hood said, "must be tempered by six words, and their effects."

Sees Better Fruit Demand

The six "words" Hood said were "War, inflation, production, shortage, controls and taxes." Hood noted that "prices will continue to go up despite attempts to freeze them," and added that "full production will be needed; ceilings are not expected on most farm products, but are on beef, pork, lamb, veal, and rice." He concluded that "rationing does not seem to be set for the immediate future but would seem likely to come as it is difficult to put on price controls without rationing."

The State College economist forecast an increased demand for all canned fruits and a better market for fruit, including some betterment of the export situation in fruit. "The coming year," he forecast, "will be a year of exceptionally high costs to

Here And There News Collected At Random

The suggestion, made last summer after the Sesquicentennial celebration, that the large number of historical documents, antiques and other items so attractively displayed in store windows be permanently housed in a museum here is really deserving of more than passing consideration.

Radford H. Lippy advanced the suggestion for the permanent display and preservation of these valuable items.

We would like to suggest that, pending fulfillment of Mr. Lippy's proposal, local merchants set up a special display of these historical items inside their stores during the summer months and that tourists be advised of these exhibits. The window displays attracted considerable attention last summer and we believe they will do so again this year. Tourists will enjoy seeing these displays.

Of the 140 National Parks, National Historical Parks, National Monuments, National Military Parks and Cemeteries, National Battlefield Sites, National Historic Sites, National Memorials, National Parkway (1) and National Memorial Park (1), only 10 attracted more visitors in 1950 than did Gettysburg, according to official figures made public by the National Park Service of the U.S. Department of Interior under whose supervision they are directed.

It is interesting to note that the most popular of all is the beautiful and awe-inspiring Abraham Lincoln memorial in Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—A spokesman for the railroads said today "negotiations are still deadlocked" in bargaining sessions before the National Mediation board on the dispute that has tied up much of the nation's rail traffic.

The spokesman told reporters "there is no truth in the current rumors of an impending settlement."

He spoke as representatives of the carriers and of four railway unions met in separate sessions with members of the mediation board.

(By The Associated Press)

The railroad switchmen's strike, now in its second week with no general back-to-work movement in sight, threatened today to shut down the entire automobile industry.

Auto industry sources said car-making may have to stop if the walkout continues another week.

With 125,000 auto workers now idle nationally, they predicted the layoffs may soon rise to 600,000.

Scant relief from the paralyzing effects of the strike was evident. Besides the auto workers, thousands of other industrial workers, were idle and hundreds of plants were shut down.

After the ceremony, the Scouts will visit the cyclorama. Cookouts, followed by tours of the battlefield and the national museum, are also on the program.

RURAL CARRIERS CALL FOR HELP

Rural mail carriers in Adams county, through their president, J. Richard Hamm, of New Oxford, today appealed to their rural patrons to make it possible for them to reach boxholders from their cars by clearing the approaches to the mail boxes of snow and ice.

Last week's snow and ice and banks of frozen snow shoved up by the snow plows have made it difficult or impossible for carriers to serve some of their customers without getting out of their cars to clamber over the icy banks to the mailboxes, Hamm said.

Quoting a government bulletin on the subject, Mr. Hamm said: "Patrons of rural delivery service are reminded that they are required to keep clear the approaches to their mail boxes by removing snow which renders it difficult or impossible for carriers to deliver mail to boxes without alighting from their vehicles."

"Carriers will endeavor to render as nearly complete service as possible but they are not required to perform service on foot when they cannot reach boxes with the conveyances ordinarily used by them."

"Where it is impossible for carriers to approach boxes, the patrons should make some other temporary arrangements for receiving their mail."

M'KNIGHTSTOWN MAN IS ARRESTED FOR CAR THEFT

Ernest Price, 26, McKnightstown, was held for court on a charge of larceny of an automobile by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, this morning, while his brother, Wayne, 21, arrested with him last week at Kennett Square, near Philadelphia, on a similar charge, was discharged, following a hearing.

The charges were filed by state police of the Gettysburg substation. The Price brothers were charged with the theft of an automobile owned by Albert Cullison, Gettysburg R. 2, from in front of his home on the Water Works road the night of January 28. Ernest Price was released in $2,000 bail following the hearing.

A third brother, Algie Price, 19, also of McKnightstown, was in jail charged with a parole violation.

Was On Probation

Wayne Price was arrested in Kennett Square after being involved in a fight in that town, according to Sheriff Dorsey Schultz. Then Ernest was picked up and both men were brought back here for questioning Thursday in connection with the car theft.

Police asked Kennett Square officers to be on the lookout for Algie, missing from McKnightstown and wanted for the parole violation. Saturday when police went to Kennett Square for the Cullison car they found Algie in custody. He was brought back to Gettysburg.

Algie had been placed on probation for one year on burglary and larceny charges. He was later arrested for malicious mischief for throwing tomatoes at an automobile.

Tokyo, Feb. 5 (AP)—The biggest Allied tank force of the Korean War rumbled deep into Red territory today in hit-run killer raids on the western front and then withdrew.

The main punch carried with in five miles of devastated Seoul. It was the closest Allied thrust to the old South Korean capital since United Nations Forces pulled out January 4.

Four other armored columns cut sharply into Red areas. Behind a thunderous bombardment by warplanes and artillery, the tanks blasted Chinese and Korean Reds out of hillside forts. The fighting raged at times at such close quarters that some Reds were ground to death under tank treads.

Killed 500 Reds

A division spokesman estimated that the two main columns, striking up the main road to Seoul and on a lateral road six miles farther west killed 500 Reds and wounded 1,500.

On the central front, Allied Forces in a simultaneous attack gained four miles in four hours and were continuing to advance. These troops pushed four miles north of Hoengsong, 10 miles north of Wenju.

New casualty tolls were piled up on the enemy all along the front, adding to the big Sunday bag which the U.S. Eighth Army estimated at 8,635 Red dead and wounded from ground action alone. Of those, 7,947 were on the flaming western front.

Warships, Planes Busy

Allied warships and far ranging fighters and bombers added to the toll again Monday, but there was no early total casualty estimate. The warships hit both coasts.

A frontline officer summed up results of the main armored blow south of Seoul with a terse: "We killed a hell of a lot of them."

Li Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Eighth Army commander, watched the assault within a few hundred yards of the front. The tank-infantry task force rumbled through and beyond Anyang, nine miles south of Seoul. It chewed up Red positions in the hills flanking the highway.

Another column smashed north along a parallel six miles west of the main highway. It pulled back voluntarily after reaching a point five miles west of Anyang against fierce resistance.

Greatest Use Of Armor

Those twin-pronged drives were executing what an officer described as "a double envelopment within a double envelopment." It was called "the greatest exploitation of armor during the Korean war."

The western column ran into a well-concealed tank trap in a ravine. The Reds' rained automatic weapon and mortar fire on the tanks and knocked out a bulldozer trying to fill the tank trap. The trap was filled and the tanks pushed on. East of the main Suwon-Seoul road, three hit-run spearheads stabbed into Chinese defenses in the Tanchon valley. The most daring of these forays was by task force Fisher, which wiped out the Red mauling front of Unjung.

Two other columns linked up at Pujon after wheeling eastward out of the Tanchon valley. U.S. and Puerto Rican infantrymen gained one mile and a half on the Suwon-Kumyangjang front in this action.

Bayonet Charge

American doughboys killed 60 Chinese in a bayonet charge in that sector, one mile east of Kungong. Fighter planes had killed about half of an estimated 200 Reds dug in on a hill. The survivors scurried down the slope, directly into the U.S. Infantry position.

The Eighth Army estimated that total Red casualties along the front and in rear areas from January 25 through Friday were 34,359, of whom 20,615 were killed. The announcement said 12,856 were wounded and 888 were captured.

The figures for the Sunday's bloody 24 hours added considerably to that toll.

A.P. Correspondent Jim Becker reported that the twin raids toward Seoul were not aimed at the capital. They were mounted to inflict as much damage on the Reds as possible. An Eighth Army spokesman said the drives were of "no particular significance at this time."

Warns Dog Owners About Licenses

State Dog Law Investigator H. E. Oakes today warned the owners of Adams county dogs that new dog licenses must be secured immediately.

The 1950 licenses expired January 15, and all owners of dogs not licensed for the coming year have, since that time, been liable to fines of from $5 to $100 or 30 days in jail. Oakes warned he plans to check for unlicensed dogs within the next few days, and owners of those found without licenses will be prosecuted.

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—The stock market made a feeble stab into higher price territory today. Most stock categories showed a mixture of gains and losses, but over the list there were a good many more plus signs than minuses. The market paid little attention at the outset to presentation of the Truman administration's plans for raising an additional $10,000,000,000 in taxes.

concentrate sprays." The minimum specifications for all blast machines for concentrate spraying of peach, Asquith said, are, for two-way spraying, an air blast equal to 16,000 cubic feet per minute at 90 miles per hour, and for one way spraying, an air blast equal to 8,000 cubic feet per minute at 90 miles per hour.

A suggested spray schedule from which lime sulphur has been eliminated was presented for sour cherry orchards by state college experts. In discussing the sour cherry spray program Dr. R. S. Kirby and J. O. Pepper, extension specialists, noted that "the problem of disease and insect control on sour cherries is greatly complicated by the effect of sprays on the fruit. Lime sulphur always causes some leaf injury. It has often failed to give good leaf spot control and has dwarfed the fruit in nearly every case. Applied at weekly intervals, it reduced fruit size by about 17 percent in three grower-sprayed comparisons in 1949. It also killed about 80 percent of the petals in some orchards when used in the pink spray in 1949."

Truman Sees Hope For Averting War
Philadelphia, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Truman says "there is reason to hope" that another world war can be averted "if we can get over the present crisis successfully."

Dedicating the Chapel of Four Chaplains Saturday, Mr. Truman called upon the nation anew to unite in the fight against Communist aggression.

The chapel is a $300,000 inter-faith memorial to four army clergymen—a Jew, a Roman Catholic and two Protestants—who died with 600 others in the sinking of the troopship Dorchester eight years ago.

Harrisburg, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Madrid Palestra, a sports and social center, was swept by a general alarm fire early today. The blaze was more spectacular than it was damaging. Firemen estimated $25,000 damage to the $350,000 building. The fire was discovered shortly after midnight and was brought under control two hours later.

BULLETS YIELD TO MUHLENBERG QUINTET 75-64

A ragged start proved disastrous to the Gettysburg college basketball team as it dropped a 75-64 verdict to Muhlenberg at Allentown Saturday evening.

At one time early in the game the Bullets trailed by 15 points but came roaring back to gain a 37-37 deadlock at half time.

Muhlenberg shot out in front again at the start of the third period but once again the Bullets pulled up and trailed by only 53-51 going into the final frame.

Coach "Hen" Bream's lads battled the Mules to a standstill for only six minutes of the final period but apparently spent themselves. The score was tied at 62-62 with three and one-half minutes remaining and then the home club went on a scoring spree to sew up the decision.

Bill Baker and Elmo Jackson were the offensive axes for Muhlenberg while George Hare and Bob O'Brien, with 16 and 14 points, respectively, led the Bullets.

On Wednesday the Bream-men will journey to Carlisle to meet Dickinson and on Saturday will meet a newcomer on the schedule, Wagner, on the local boards.

Chandler's Foes Claim Enough Votes

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—The major league anti-Chandler forces have nearly twice as many votes as they need to oust Albert B. Chandler from the office of commissioner of baseball, a club owner claimed today.

He also said: "Don't be surprised if we have a new commissioner by opening day (April 17)."

The magnate, who declined use of his name, insisted that the seven who voted last December not to renew the commissioner's contract beyond his present term, had gained two more allies during the past two months and now outnumbered the pro-Chandler group, nine to seven.

Chandler needs 12 votes for re-election.

On the other hand, Chandler is certain he has 10 votes. He privately confided to friends last night that he has lost one backer from the original hunk who voted for him at St. Petersburg, Fla., but he has picked up two others. The former Senator from Kentucky is confident he can get the two more votes he needs to win.

JR. HI IN KEY GAME TUESDAY

One of the most important games on the Gettysburg Junior high basketball schedule will be played here Tuesday evening when Hanover is met in a Southern Division contest of the Junior High League.

The game was originally listed for February 20.

Coach Rogers Herr's team needs a victory over Hanover, followed by another over Waynesboro here on February 16, to gain a possible tie for the lead. If the locals win both games it is probable they would meet Hanover in the title playoff.

Hanover won over Gettysburg in an earlier meeting at Hanover 43-35. Waynesboro, the other member of the division, has already lost to Gettysburg and Hanover.

The reserve teams will meet at 6:45 o'clock.

FROSH CAGERS WIN PAIR AT MERCERSBURG

The Gettysburg college freshmen cagers encountered little trouble in taking a double-header from the Muhlenberg academy dribblers at Mercersburg Saturday.

Coach Johnny Yoviesin's varsity breezed through to a 79-41 victory for its fifth win in six starts. The Little Bullets led 40-19 at half time.

Johnny Habeeb and Joe Lang continued their brilliant scoring in leading the attack and between them looped 42 tallies.

The frosh "B" team topped the preliminary 68-22. After being held to a 25-18 advantage at half time the locals put on a sensational defensive game in the last half and permitted the academy lads but two goals, one in each quarter.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SELF CONTROL

Our newspapers are filled with discussions about controls, especially of prices, and our legislators are wondering what to do about it, but while they are hesitating it becomes the duty and privilege of every human being among us to exercise that greatest of all controls—Self control!

Recently a great New York department store published in all the city newspapers a full page advertisement headed: "Why Are You Buying So Much, New York?" It was addressed to those who were giving themselves to the buying of un-needed things because of the possibility of war—in other words fear buying, which only makes things scarce to everyone. Hoarders do an injustice to themselves and to all others.

I congratulate this store! They put the good of all above the good of itself. There is enough for all in this western world to take care of everyone, even after all the sacrifices essential to preserve our free way of life, and we pray God, the freedom of the world as well.

Never before in our history has our moral strength and self control been so gravely challenged. Our enemies would like to know that we are not equal to that emergency—but we have always been equal to every emergency, and we always will be! That advertisement of a great New York store was a warning to the selfish few.

Consider what our fighting boys are experiencing, with so little, but offering their all! Can any sacrifice of ours even approach theirs? No matter what we are asked to give up, in order to preserve the freedom that we own, we will still experience the highest standard of living in the world. Our waste alone would feed a good part of the globe!

Fear buying alone tends to raise prices. Buy what you need — and no more. We are all "on the spot" so need to pull equally together. Nothing is so devastating to a nation's economy as stupid hoarding. We are in the army for a just and lasting peace, but only as we pull as one!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject "Tribute to a Friend" Protected, 1951, by The George Matthews Adams Service (By The Associated Press)

CHECK UP

Checking me, the doctor said:
"Rather weak about the head;
Mind inclined to disobey
Orders given, night or day;
Will power? Scarcely none at all;
Eyes still read the letters small;
Heart content, fairly good;
Pulse still beating as it should;
Blood count normal. Pressure gauge
Shows one hundred, plus your age;
Arteries easy to the touch —
Hardened some, but not too much.
Healthy teeth (the few you own);
Almost perfect muscle tone;
For all foods that you enjoy
The digestion of a boy.
Tell you truly this I can:
You are no 'eight ulcer' man;
No infection in your throat;
Trace of dandruff on your coat;
Wouldn't worry over that.
Possibly a bit too fat.
Slow down; it's the pace that kills;
Don't forget to take your pills.
Six months more, come back, and then
I will check you up again."

"Thank you, doctor. Did you say,
I could eat three meals a day?"

The appointment of Mr. Ham-

on Thursday evening was made under misapprehension. His purpose to visit Gettysburg was known, and arrangements were made for services
in the M.E. church under the impression that he would remain over night. It turned out that Mr. Hammond's purpose was simply to make a flying trip to the battlefield. Having no knowledge of the Gettysburg appointment and having an engagement elsewhere for Thursday night,
he was unable to remain over. As it has become customary in certain quarters to accredit Mr. Hammond and other noted revivalists with mercenary motives, this explanation
may be due at least to the Christian public.

PA. ASSEMBLY HAS RETURNED TO WORK TODAY

Harrisburg, Feb. 5 (AP) — Pennsylvania's general assembly came back to work today after a two-week's "breathing-spell" recess to give Governor John S. Fine time to spell out the new administration's legislative program.

A three-day session this week was in prospect, with some administration legislation expected to be presented, including bills to set up a state civil defense commission and to take first steps toward revising
the state's constitution.

Cabinet Deadline
The bulk of the administration program, however, including measures to raise $120,000,000 in new taxes, is expected to be held up until Fine submits the commonwealth's budget for the next two years. The budget may be submitted late in February or early March.

Most interest of the week's session will center in the Senate in the deadlock over confirmation of the governor's cabinet. The dispute revolves around Fine's effort to retain Charles J. Margiotti as attorney general, without Senate confirmation, under a commission issued by Former Governor James H.
Duff.

The civil defense bill would give legal status to the home defense program which has been functioning for some time. The measure proposes wide powers to state and local officials to cope with any situation that might arise during a war emergency.

The constitution revision bill would start the long process toward revising the commonwealth's 87-year-old fundamental law. It would set up machinery for the voters this fall to elect possibly 100 members of a constitutional revision committee. Should voters approve, the committee would arrange for a convention next year to draft the new constitution, with a view of submitting it to the voters at the 1952
election.

The administration may also submit its draft of FEPC legislation setting up a commission to ban job discrimination because of race, color or creed. Similar legislation has touched off hot debate in recent sessions without any action being taken.

On the cabinet deadlock, Democrats, holding the balance of power
on confirmations, insist that Fine should submit the appointment of an attorney general. So far, they have held up confirmation of all members of the executive's cabinet.
The Senate lineup is 30 Republicans and 20 Democrats, with votes of four Democrats necessary to confirm appointments.

During the 1950 football season,
Northwestern completed an average of 11.7 passes per game in Big Ten competition. This is a new record, surpassing Indiana's 10.7 average
made in 1946.

County Weekly Farm And Garden Section

Cold Frame Will Double Output of Small Garden

Working Drawing for Standard Single Sash Cold Frame.

In every month of the year there is important service a cold frame can render to a garden. In the spring it is a nursery for younger plants; under its protection vegetables and flowers can be started weeks earlier than they could be sown outdoors; and guarded from belated frosts until time to set them in the garden.

Any one who can wield a saw and hammer can make a cold frame. It is usually made 3 by 6 feet, or some multiple of this, for the reason that standard hot-bed sash are of these dimensions. This standard sash may be used for both hot-beds and cold frames, which are alike except that the cold frame is unheated. But a cold frame (or a hot-bed either)
may be any size you wish, to fit old windows, or frames covered with one of the modern glass substitutes.

These glass substitutes are worth considering. They do not break, and the breakage of glass in windy localities is sometimes considerable.
They are much lighter than glass, a merit which women appreciate.
They do not let in as much light
as glass, but for growing seedlings
they let in enough.

The substitutes most commonly used consist either of wire screens covered with material resembling celluloid, or fabrics treated with wax to make them waterproof, and let more light through.

The frame of a cold-frame should be constructed according to the plan herewith of 1-inch boards, of cypress, white pine or some wood which resists rot. Then dig a hole in the ground slightly larger than the size of the frame and a foot deep. Into this hole put the frame so that the front is 4 inches above
the surface, and the rear, 9 inches.
It must slant toward the south, where the winter sun shines. It is well to hinge the sash at the top of the frame, so it can be easily opened for transplanting purposes and airing.

A sunny spot in the garden, protected as much as possible from the full forces of winds and driving rain, is the best situation for the cold frame. It may be too cold now to dig in the garden, but the sash
may be procured and the lumber frame made, so that when the first warm days arrive you are ready for serious gardening.

nure over winter is beneficial.

Fancy-leaved Caladiums are at long last coming into deserved recognition. And while they serve effectively as indoor winter and summer porch plants, preferably grown in ornamental pots, they find their most useful role in beds or borders over summer. They thrive in shade or sun but perhaps do best in semi-shade. Bulbs should be planted 4 inches deep and about 6 to 7 inches apart in late April and early May.

It is truly a difficult matter to explain why Montbretias are not more widely grown. They are easy to manage and bring a mass of beautiful flowers in late summer and early fall. Bulbs may be left in the ground over winter as far north as Philadelphia. Rich, deeply mellow, well drained loam is recommended,
either in semi-shade or full sun.
Manure and bone meal worked through the soil before planting time stimulate taller spikes. Watering liberally in dry weather is a wise investment in labor.

Tigridias, sometimes called Shell-flowers of Mexico, should not be confused with Tiger Lilies. Few bulbous flowers are so attractive.
Many successful growers handle this ornamental similar to gladioli.
Planted in early May, blooms appear in mid-summer and continue until September.

Among the most fragrant of summer bulbs are the beautiful Tuber-oses. Bulbs should not be planted outdoors until all danger of frost is past and the soil is warm. Many growers prefer to pot bulbs singly
in ordinary clay pots or plant bands
in early March or even in late February and keep the plants thriving in a greenhouse or coldframe until warm weather and then shift them to their growing place without disturbance to the roots. This transplan-ting may be delayed until early June
if necessary. Tuberose bloom continuously until fall. They are excellent as cut flowers.

Pancratiums are not widely known.
Yet, despite their lack of recognition, they are easy to grow and produce pure white flowers in July and early August, somewhat resembling peonies. They may be grown in much the same manner as gladioli bulbs. Bulbs should be taken up before freezing weather and stored in a dry, moderately warm place over winter. Multiplication is rapid.

When To Start Vegetables

Leading among causes for poor vegetable gardens is the failure to know the "when" of starting crops. Therefore, every interested reader is invited to write the editor, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope (or a 3-cent stamp) for a free copy of our revised vegetable planting chart. This advises the proper time to start each extra early vegetable. Of course, you are invited to include all the related questions you wish to ask.

NOTES ON FLOWERING BULBS

Amaryllis bulbs potted any time
from fall until late winter, one vigorous bulb to a pot, bring a wealth of indoor color in 6 to 8 weeks. Few indoor bulbous flowers are so easy to grow. To have a continuation of bloom, bulbs should be potted every two weeks. If planted in a fertile,
well drained outdoor bed from late March until late May, gorgeous flowers will result in late summer and early fall.

Several readers have recently in-

U. S. ASKS HELP OF PUBLIC WITH PRICE CONTROLS

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The government is enlisting public support on the problem of enforcing price controls—a problem on which it finds itself divided.

Price Director Michael V. Disalle yesterday asked the mayors of all cities with more than 10,000 population to set up volunteer committees to encourage "general public knowledge and observance of regulations adopted in the interest of a sound national economy."

His move, of course, was not designed to take the place of prosecution of price regulation violators. It was on that phase that the split developed between Disalle's Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) and the Justice department.

Question of Jurisdiction

The question was one of jurisdiction between the two agencies, and some officials speculated that President Truman himself may have to resolve it.

Attorney General McGrath announced last week that he was setting up a special unit to handle litigation.

107th Field Artillery will fire a 19-gun salute for Pace and the second battalion of the 109th Regiment and the 28th Division band will form the honor guard.

gation growing out of price and wage controls. Disalle, due to make his first public progress report in a speech at Toledo tonight, was reported to be resisting.

He was said to feel that he cannot carry out a price control program effectively unless the enforcement officials are in his own agency, working closely with those who administer the law and regulations.

Disagree On Disagreement

Questioned on this point in Toledo, Disalle said the disagreement "is a matter of clarification rather than a dispute." He added: "It is a question of where we leave off and where they take over."

Assistant Attorney General Peyton Ford, under whose direction the new price-wage unit will operate, said he knows of no disagreement. "I have had no dispute with anybody about this," he told a reporter.

But aides of Eric Johnston, the director of economic stabilization and Disalle's immediate superior, said that the law is vague about who should have enforcement powers.

These officials, who asked not to be named, said Johnston will attempt to compromise the issue or, failing in that, will probably take it to the President.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 5 (AP)—A 60-pound wildcat was killed by hunters 25 miles northwest of here in Wyoming county. The animal was killed yesterday by Gus Bennett of Wyalusing. After dogs tracked it down and cornered it in a tree. It is believed to be the Bloomsburg "mountain lion" that has frightened many residents in recent weeks.

LITTLESTOWN'S

from a different pipe line. Gas comes into Gettysburg from a tap on the Brown farm near Biglerville, and other communities are supplied from this line. Littlestown's gas supply is taken from a line which runs through Two Taverns.

Some trouble was experienced with dust which got into the pilot flames on a few stoves, water heaters and furnaces, but the pressure was sufficient to take care of needs in Gettysburg. This was largely due to the numerous new street service lines which have been installed in Gettysburg in recent months, Estep said.

Employees of the gas company worked some of them until 2:30 o'clock this morning before normal service was restored in Littlestown, Hanover and elsewhere.

Long Hours For Workmen

Crews which worked a normal day on Friday continued on duty all Friday night. Others started at 4 a.m. Saturday and worked straight through until 4 a.m. Sunday when they were sent home for two or three hours' rest. They returned to work, some continuing until midnight and others until 2:30 o'clock this morning.

Employees of the local gas company were aided by special crews sent here from Cumberland, Md., and Piedmont, W. Va., Mr. Estep said. Fifteen men were sent from these two points.

Crews went to every home and every consumer of gas in Littlestown, beginning Saturday afternoon. By Saturday night everything was turned off. Where the residents were at home, gas was cut off at the meters. In cases where no one was at home, the gas was shut off at the street. Mr. Estep praised highly the cooperation of Littlestown residents.

As soon as there was enough pressure in the mains to turn the gas on with safety, the men went around again, turning on the gas and lighting the appliances.

Industries Hit

The situation had improved Sunday with warmer weather in Ohio and farther south, easing the demand of consumers in these localities, and allowing more gas to be allocated to sections in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Estep said three pipe lines run through the Brown farm near Biglerville, from which Gettysburg and other communities obtain their gas, and only one line through Two Taverns, the point from which Littlestown's supply is taken off the large main.

Larger industrial users of gas in the county, however, have been without it for several days. Included are the Alwine Brick company at New Oxford and the Keystone and Penn Ceramic companies north of Gettysburg.

TRUMAN ASKS BIG JUMP IN EXCISE TAXES

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Truman administration today asked Congress for vastly bigger excise or sales taxes, including levies of 20 per cent on automobiles and 25 per cent on television and radio sets.

The program also calls for a jump of four per cent in individual income tax rates, adding $4 in tax on each $100 of income after deductions and personal exemptions.

The proposed excise increases would mean a boost of 13 per cent—from 7 to 20 per cent—on auto levies and 15 per cent—from 10 to 25 per cent—on television and radio sets. The tax would be imposed on the manufacturer's price.

Many Levies To Go Up
The present $9 a gallon liquor tax would be hiked to $12, the $8 a barrel beer tax would jump to $12, the seven cent a pack cigarette tax would go up to 10 cents and the gasoline tax would be doubled, going from one and one-half cents a gallon to three cents.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder outlined these proposals to the House ways and means committee as part of the administration's first installment $10,000,000,000 tax boost. The plan calls for a $4,000,000,000 increase in individual income taxes, a $3,000,000,000 hike in corporation income taxes and a $3,000,000,000 raise in excise (sales) taxes.

President Truman told Congress last Friday the first round hike will be followed by another request for an increase of about $6,500,000,000 later this year.

Other Proposals
Other basic proposals laid before the House committee by Snyder: 1. A boost in the capital gains tax from a flat 25 per cent to 37 1/2 per cent. The present tax applies to profits from sale of property held six months or more. The proposal would require a minimum holding period of one-year to qualify for the capital gains tax in place
